

Apprendre et réfléchir avec les petites bêtes

A French/Science program at Melbourne Museum

Program launch and Teacher PD
Friday 1 May 2.30 – 5 PM at the Melbourne Museum

The AFTV together with Museum Victoria will officially launch this new French/ Science education Project Apprendre et réfléchir avec les petites bêtes. The aim of the education package is to link the learning and exploration of a science based topic of bugs with French literacy. This education kit, written and developed by Eva Anderson and Laurence Brottes, AFTV committee members, includes teacher notes, cultural notes, science concepts, recipes, rhymes, an activity matrix, classroom and museum based activities built around bugs and rainforest trails and a vocabulary list. The kit also contains VELS curricular links, a self-assessment tool and an outcome checklist. Eva and Laurence will explain and illustrate the best way to navigate and implement the various activities which are suitable for years 4 to 9 and francophone members of the community.

The bug and rain forest self-guided trails can be accessed via the Melbourne Museum website by all members of the community. There is also the option for schools to book a staff led presentation on the topic at the museum, the aim of which is to give students the opportunity to experience French outside the classroom.

A CD of the illustrated booklet, L'album de la famille Phasme, which has been especially designed for reading, writing and listening activities, contains proverbs, pronunciation and comprehension exercises. The CD is available from the AFTV and will also be available at the launch.
